Artist Bios

Eric Seplowitz (born 1974, Connecticut, US) studied Geology and Philosophy at Union College in Schenectady, NY. His love of the outdoors and the natural world started off young, when he was a junior curator at the Stamford Museum and Nature Center. It later led him to internships teaching outdoor education in Indiana through Indiana University's outdoor education center, Bradford Woods, as well as visitor services at Seney National Wildlife Refuge in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Collectively, these experiences helped create his desire to see the natural world in different ways and to connect people with what the natural world has to offer.

Eric has been a commercial photographer since 2004, but as of 2018, has moved to work exclusively on Fine Art Photography.

Jonathan Pozniak grew up in Boston and gravitated to photography while a student at The Art Institute of Boston. After a formative year at the Paris Photographic Institute, he moved to New York City, where he established himself as a commercial photographer specializing in both travel and beauty industry work. His commercial work has included travel, portrait, and fashion commissions with clients such as Luxury Magazine, Travel+Leisure Asia, Afar, Icelandair, Google, Essie, Maybelline, Sisley Cosmetics, L'Oreal Paris, Random House, and EMI Music. He's worked on all 7 continents and often writes the stories to accompany his travel assignments.
